

Portugal: Cape St. Vincent ~ Walks, Orchids & Birds on the Edge of Europe

www.kudutravel.com/tours/cape-st-vincent-holiday

28 March – 4 April 2021

Jutting into the Atlantic, 9° west of Greenwich, Cape St. Vincent marks Europe's most south-westerly point. From here, Prince Henry the Navigator sent forth his caravels during Portugal's Golden Age of Discoveries. Now largely protected as a National Park, the Cape provides scenic coastal walks with a plethora of wildflowers, including orchids, and migrant birds.

Comfortably based in a traditional 4-star Pousada and a pleasant Alentejo hotel, we enjoy excellent seafood and Portuguese wines, explore the historic small towns of the area and also spend a day walking and birdwatching on the immense open plains of the Baixo Alentejo, carpeted with spring wildflowers beneath the holm oaks.

HIGHLIGHTS of our Cape St. Vincent walking holiday include:

- Expert botanical guiding to discover the many endemic plants of Cape St Vincent
- A scenic boat trip in search of dolphins, gannets and Cory's shearwaters
- Historical insights, from Moorish castles to the voyages of Prince Henry the Navigator
- Opportunity to look for great bustards and lesser kestrels on the open plains of the Baixo Alentejo

Guests' comments on this trip:

Itinerary

DAY 1

D included

After meeting at Faro airport in the afternoon, we drive west (1.5 hours) to the village of Sagres, set within the Cape St Vincent National Park, and settle into our clifftop 4-star Pousada hotel before a seafood dinner in the excellent traditional restaurant.

DAY 2

B, L, D included

After breakfast we walk from the hotel, finding our first mirror and bumblebee orchids and endemic flowering gum cistus on the clifftops as we explore the Sagres promontory. We see the 18th century Fortress on our way to the lighthouse at the Cape itself, following sandy tracks through the windswept coastal vegetation, full of wild gladioli and 'hooped petticoat' narcissus, and providing shelter for migrant birds such as cuckoos, hoopoes and flycatchers.

DAY 3

B, L, D included

Departing from Sagres' small fishing harbour on a well-equipped rigid inflatable boat, we learn about the coastal geology as well as looking for dolphins, gannets and Cory's shearwaters (weather dependent, alternative walk available). Returning to land, we have lunch on the fish harbour and spend the afternoon walking a scenic coastal path looking for dipcadis, fritillarias and centaureas. A Slow Food restaurant provides a memorable dinner.

DAY 4

B, L, D included

This morning we walk round the saltpans of the Alvor estuary in search of flamingos and spoonbills as well as salt tolerant plants. We see the replica of the 15th century caravel 'Boa Esperanca' moored in the harbour before lunch in a lively restaurant popular with the locals, then explore the cobbled lanes of the historic town of Lagos, visiting the small regional museum and the mediaeval fortress. En route home we pause to walk on a hillside covered with wild peonies.

DAY 5

B, L, D included

This morning's walk on the wild Atlantic coast in the north of the Park reveals spectacular coastal scenery and unspoilt countryside harbouring many wildflowers, including the charming little Leucojum trichophyllum, the endemic Astragalus lusitanicus (Portuguese milkvetch) and the parasitic Cytinus rubra. We visit a small interesting museum of fishing and walk through sand dunes to a beach restaurant for a typical 'cataplana' lunch. After a scenic coastal drive, we stop at the 14th century chapel at Guadalupe where Henry the Navigator and his ships' crews prayed before departing into the unknown and return to our hotel in good time to admire the sunset over the Cape.

B, L, D included

We drive east and our first stop is the impressive Moorish castle in Silves. We spend the rest of the morning exploring the historic area around the castle and the cathedral. In the afternoon, we walk down to a river along an abandoned lane renowned for its remarkable number of orchids, then head north through orange and carob orchards to Castro Verde in the Baixo Alentejo. Our small modern hotel (3 star) is a comfortable and quiet base in the village centre and Alentejo wines at dinner are well worth discovering.

DAY 7

B, L, D included

Today we explore contrasting areas of the steppe, starting with a circular walk amongst holm oaks and gum cistus. After lunch in a picturesque whitewashed village, we walk and look for little and great bustards, Montagu's harriers and lesser kestrels on a vast open plain amidst colourful displays of flowering camomile, viper's bugloss and crown daisies.

DAY 8

B included

After breakfast, we head south for Faro and midday flights home.

Activity Level

Relaxed

6 walking days (1.5 – 4.5 hours daily at an appropriately slow pace). Lightweight walking boots that provide good ankle support are best as the terrain is often quite rough underfoot.
